DEDICATION

WHITE CROSSES SPRING FROM EVERY NATION'S SOIL-
THE SEVEN SEAS SWEEP O'ER THE BOUNDLESS DEEP-
BOTH LAND AND SEA IS SACRED TO US ALL,
THE FINAL RESTING PLACE WHERE HEROES SLEEP.

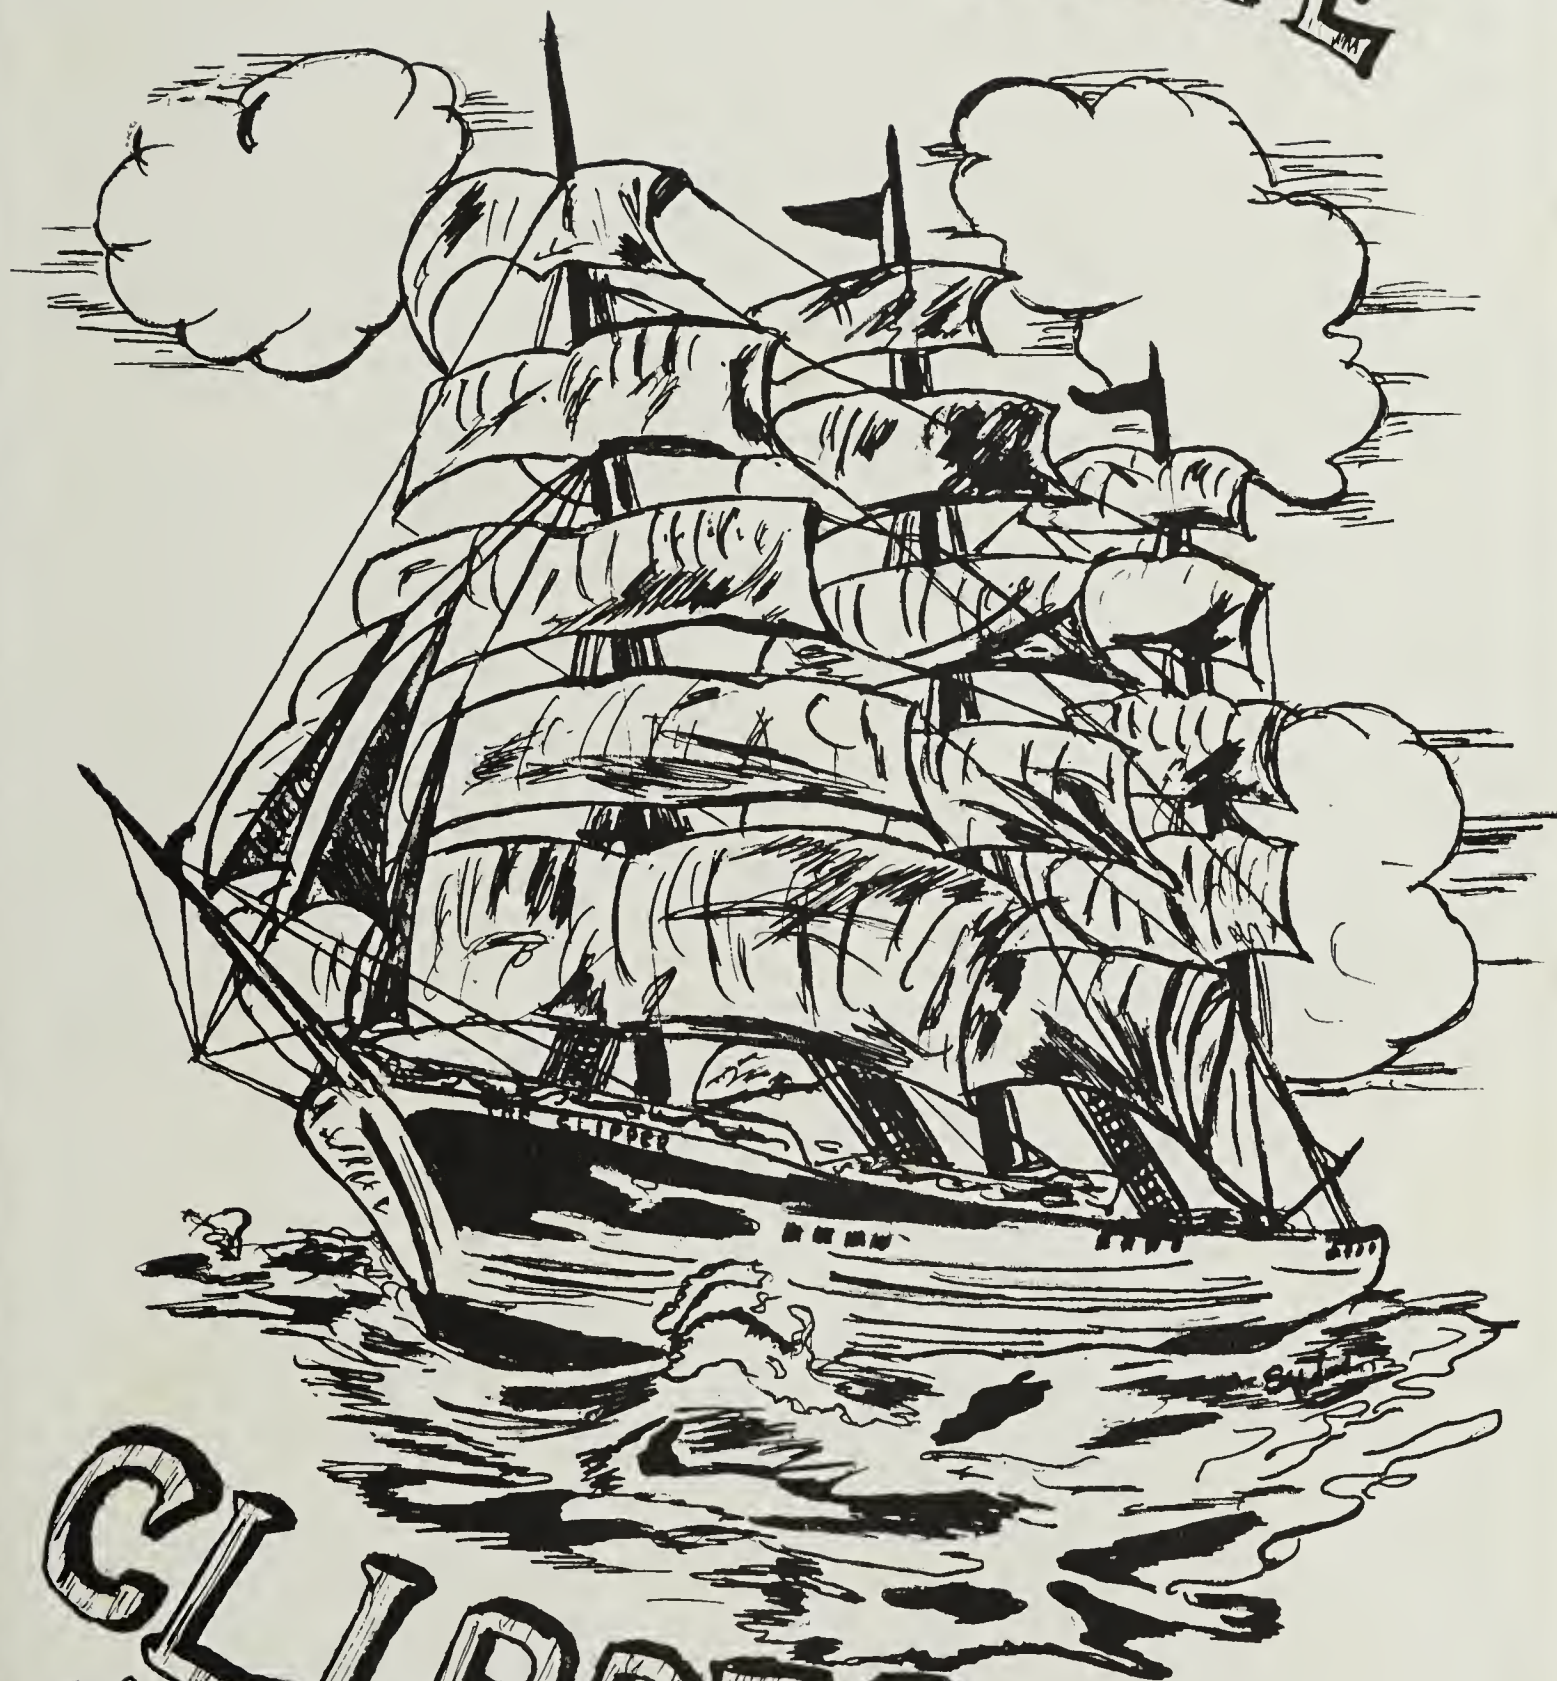

THOSE, TOO, WHO CAME BACK SOUND, OR LAME, OR BLIND-
SURVIVORS OF THE WORLD'S MOST DEADLY STRIFE,
ALMOST UNNOTICED TRY TO SETTLE DOWN
AND GATHER UP THE BROKEN STRANDS OF LIFE.

BRAVE, NOBLE MEN, WHO KEPT OUR COUNTRY FREE-
WE MUST PRESERVE THIS LAND THEY'VE PROUDLY TROD.
TO THEM WE HUMBLY DEDICATE THIS BOOK,
AND TRUST THEIR SOULS ARE WITH ALMIGHTY GOD.

Class Prophecy

While walking down Broadway in New York City, a hearty gust of wind blew my hat off. I was thankful when a handsome young man appeared, who leaped gracefully after my bonnet.

Surprise reigned when I perceived that the young man was none other than Dale Forrest, my classmate of 1948. We were elated at the meeting...soon were asking about the 1948 class from Mathews Hall. Dale told me that he had been very busy all summer. Being shortstop for the Philadelphia Athletics Association wasn't an easy job. Soon we were busily engaged in conversation about our former classmates. Dale had been in contact with many of them, and he told me exactly the profession they had chosen.

Our class president, Joyce Hutson is still an old maid; looks as if Bill will never pop the question. (And after 15 years of courting, too!) Frances Pierce, Jane Lee Forrest, Mary Wade Hudgins, and Carrie Ann Belvin have an exclusive beauty shoppe on Fifth Avenue in New York City. Our bicycle mechanics, Eugene Miller and Donald Adams, are doing quite a business in their elaborate shop in Chicago. Donald is still in the navy, and Eugene is an admiral in the navy. Eugene's job as Chief-Justice of the Supreme Court keeps him very busy these days. Joyce James is a chemist in a laboratory. She is studying the science of bugs. Ann Hall is an authority in a famous university.

As I hurried across the floor of a department store, I was stunned by a terrific blow from the floorwalker, who took for granted that I was a shoplifter. I was even more stunned when I found the person to be none other than the ever-famous Minnie Revere, a figure of National Society. While in conversation, I learned that Marie Nohen was chief-typist to the manager of the store. Also employed there were Margaret Anne Ripley, Janice Diggs, Caroline Morgan, Jeanette Elaylock, and Gazelle Williams. (My, how Margaret Anne must miss Jimbo way up there!) Hilda Respress is now the personal secretary to the President of the United States, John Millard Moore. Hilda specializes in shorthand. John Millard says that they aren't so short. He should know--he's holding them all the time!!! John, by the way, recently returned from Cuba.

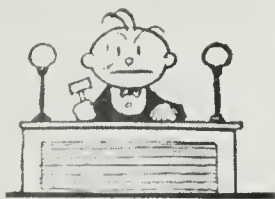

When I crossed the street, who should I meet but Ethel Greene and Jane Diggs, who immediately asked me to lunch. Of course I accepted. After a pleasant meal in the Waldorf, we settled down for a long chat. Ethel informed me that she had given up typing to become the wife of John Brown of Guinea!!! Jane was still an old maid, and was knitting for the Goodwill Society. It seems that she has been traveling back and forth each week to see Edmund Jr. Suddenly a shriek pierced into the air. I turned to find Jo Ann Hunley with a mad squalling child in her arms. When his father appeared with a licorice stick, all was well. Our champagne was served by the head of the Waldorf chef staff, Shirley Thompson. She said that Joan Cellis was busily fixing books in the Library of Congress. I also met Jean Carrett and Rose Soles, who were looking for their famous husbands, Floyd Ward and Jr. Williams, senators in the White House. I paused to glimpse a figure which I regarded familiar. It was David Smith. He told me that he was manager of the basketball, football, and baseball leagues at Harvard University. He had received a letter from two of his friends, Jean Deagle and Fay Hudgins. Jean had become a famous nurse. In fact, she had helped Sister Kenny to find the cure for infantile paralysis. As an admiral in the Coast Guard, Fay had a good reputation. Of course this came from attending apprentice school, where he received top honors.

Shirley Vreeland is taking New York by storm, as she is painting her way through Fifth Avenue. She recently painted a portrait of Queen Elizabeth by request. Shirley said that

FOOTBALL-1947

Mathews High School inaugurated their first football team in the history of the school on September 19, 1947, with Poquoson High School at Mathews. All but one or two boys had never seen a football game, much less play in one. They most valiantly suffered their first defeat by a score of 47-0.

On September 26, they scored their first touchdown. This was against Courtland High School under the lights at Franklin, Virginia, but they were on the short end of the score when the game ended at 20-6.

On October 3 and 10, Franklin and Falmouth High Schools steamrollered Mathews High eleven by scores of 66-0 and 54-0 respectively.

After three weeks of practice, they played Smithfield under the lights at the Smithfield Ham Center. Although beaten by a score of 47-6, they were a vastly improved ball club. The first half, Smithfield scored 40 points, and Mathews and the team of Smithfield both scored one touchdown in the second-half. The second half of this ball game was probably the turning point in the Mathews Ball Club.

On the first Annual Homecoming Day, Mathews turned back a fighting Courtland eleven by a score of 6-0. Mathews completely dominated the play throughout the game, and making a deep impression upon the people of Mathews. David Smith was elected captain, with Charles Ward and Wendell Charnock co-captains.
